GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN HEALTH ADMINISTRATION WELCOMES NEW PROGRAM DIRECTOR

CU Denver's Graduate Programs in Health Administration is pleased to announce Rulon F. Stacey, Ph.D. has accepted the position of Program Director. Dr. Stacey is a nationally recognized speaker and leader in the healthcare industry. He began his career in Colorado as CEO of St. Vincent General Hospital in Leadville before moving on to become CEO of Poudre Valley Health System and subsequently UC Health. Dr. Stacey most recently served as Managing Director for Navigant Consulting's Healthcare Strategy business unit, where he provided expertise in the areas of organizational transformation, strategy development, and performance leadership.

Dr. Stacey has a BS in Economics and a Masters in Health Administration from Brigham Young University, as well as a PhD in Health Policy from the University of Colorado Denver. He has been the recipient of a number of awards for his efforts to improve the quality of healthcare and was twice named by Modern Healthcare as among the 100 Most Influential People in Healthcare. Dr. Stacey is currently an adjunct faculty member of the University of Minnesota MHA program.

As the new Program Director for the Graduate Programs in Health Administration, Dr. Stacey will oversee both the campus and executive programs in health administration. He will work alongside faculty and staff to enhance the design and delivery of high quality learning opportunities for students, support health administration research, and engage with industry leaders to strengthen healthcare partnerships.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

Hello to all the students, faculty, alumni and friends of the University of Colorado Denver Graduate Programs in Health Administration!

I am thrilled to be back in Colorado and to be a part of this great work. I have been affiliated with this great program for more than 20 years and I'm honored to play a more formal role now. Like you, during those 20 years I have worked a great deal with Errol Biggs and have grown to appreciate his vision and leadership. There are many reading this letter, including me, who owe a great deal of the success of our career to Errol and his support of education in general and this program specifically. I'm happy to say that Errol may be retired, but he is still here and will be around a great deal! Thanks Errol for all your hard work!

In the coming months I am going to get to know each of you better. I predict that one of our keys to continued success in the future is going to be our ability to connect with alumni and industry leaders. Our goal is to do anything we can to further the education of the students and the research in the industry. We just can't be as successful as we might otherwise be without your support in that effort.

To that end, I am looking forward to continuing the robust tradition of a vibrant alumni counsel and industry partners. During coming months I will be looking forward to finding ways to learn from you and make sure that you are fully engaged with the faculty and students alike as we work to continue to distinguish the program. In the meantime, please feel free to reach out to me at any time. My e-mail address is ulon.stacey@ucdenver.edu and my cell phone is (612) 615-5189. I'm excited about what we will be able to do together!!!

WELCOME NEW ALUMNI!

49th Annual Health Administration Student Reception

The campus Health Administration program celebrated the graduation of 28 MBA and MS health administration students on Sunday, May 18, 2019. Friends, family, and fellow students gathered at the Denver Athletic Club for a night of awards, appreciation and commemoration for the graduating class. The guests of honor included students who finished the program in December 2018, May 2019, and August 2019. The new CU Denver alumni were honored at the dinner with the presentation of several awards.

Please congratulate this year's graduates!

EUGENIE SONTAG SCHOLARSHIP— RECOGNIZING EXCELLENCE IN SERVICE

Megan McCarthy, the 2019 recipient of the Eugenie Sontag Scholarship award, has demonstrated excellence through her professional success, academic achievement, and service to others; a true testament of the qualities the Sontag Award represents.

McCarthy joined the Health Administration program directly after finishing her bachelor's degree in health services administration from the University of South Dakota. A few months after starting the MSHA, she acquired a job working as a Grants Consultant for the Anschutz Medical Campus. She was also elected co-President of the Health Administration Student Organization by her peers. While working full-time and fulfilling her duties as HASO co-President, McCarthy was able to complete the MSHA in 2 years with a 3.9 grade point average.

McCarthy contributes to the Denver Metro Area community and individuals around the world by donating time every week to volunteer at Project C.U.R.E. and The Welcome Table. In her own words McCarthy states,

“ Volunteering through [Project C.U.R.E] allows me to indirectly serve others on a global scale in ways that I would otherwise not be able to do on my own. Alternatively, volunteering at The Welcome Table allows me to serve individuals in our own community that do not have the resources to feed themselves every day. Both volunteering experiences have taught me the importance of giving back to those that are less fortunate because all humans deserve to be treated with dignity and love. ”

The Eugenie Sontag Scholarship Award has been given to a campus health administration student every year since 1975. The award is in honor of Eugenie Sontag, a 1971 health administration graduate who believed in setting an example of excellence and in providing others with love and respect through service. As a nurse, Sontag had been an ensign with the Merchant Marine Hospital in Cleveland and had worked for both the Minneapolis and Denver Visiting Nurse Services. She was instrumental in organizing and developing the Saint Anthony Hospital Auxiliary, and before entering the health administration program, she had served as a nursing home administrator. After graduating from the program, she learned she had inoperable lung cancer. Sontag passed away in 1972, after which the Eugenie Sontag Scholarship Award was established in her memory and honor.

Criteria for the award includes the candidate's academic standing, record of community service, leadership or professional promise, and significant achievement potential in the health care field. Health administration faculty members nominate four to six students to be considered for the award. The Colorado Health Administration Alumni Association Board of Directors then makes the final decision.

STUDENTS STUDY MICROFINANCE IN KENYA

Women's empowerment project by Heart NGO (Colorado). Single mothers with HIV are supported by Heart (provided shelter, school costs for kids, medical, meals, etc.) and spend a year learning a skill like sewing in an effort to rebuild their health and confidence and acquire a job upon graduation.

Dr. Blair Gifford, long-standing professor for the campus and executive programs, took a group of students to Kenya in January 2020. The class was able to see Dr. Gifford's maternal/child health, nutrition and microfinance projects in 20 villages in southwest Kenya, including the pig farm he owns, which provides financial support for the health projects. Additionally, the class was able to make time to take a safari. Below and right are pictures from the trip.

BAYLOR UNIVERSITY HOSTS 5TH CASE COMPETITION IN HEALTHCARE MANAGEMENT

Graduate students from universities across the nation converged at Baylor University October 23-25, 2019, to compete in the fifth annual Robbins Case Competition in Healthcare Management. The Robbins Institute for Health Policy and Leadership at Baylor's Hankamer School of Business hosts the competition to provide a forum for master's degree-level students to participate in a national case competition in healthcare management with a distinct financial and quantitative emphasis.

Winners of the competition earned national recognition plus monetary awards. Trinity University's team took first place and $12,000. University of Pittsburgh earned second place and $8,000. University of Alabama at Birmingham garnered third place and $4,000.

Three students were awarded $500 each for the best responses in the question and answer session in the three preliminary round panels. The winners were Lajvanthi Sudhaker from Saint Louis University, Maddie Hafel from Cornell University, and Josh Williams from the University of Toronto.

Best presenters, who earned $500 each, were chosen from each of three preliminary round panels. The winners included Tiffany Daniel from the Ohio State University, Nikola Yerkan from Rush University, and Christina Fortugno from the University of Alabama at Birmingham.

The 6th Annual Robbins Case Competition in Healthcare Management will be held October 28-30, 2020, at the Paul L. Foster Campus for Business and Innovation at Baylor University.

FACULTY APPRECIATION: DR. ERROL BIGGS

Errol Biggs, PhD, FACHE joined the Health Administration Faculty 41 years ago in January 1978 and remained with the program as it moved from the CU Medical School to the Business School in 1982. He was Interim Director of the Health Administration Programs in 1992 and then assumed the position of Director in 1997 and served faithfully until his retirement in July 2019.

CU Denver students know Dr. Biggs best for his Profiles in Healthcare class, where he arranged for nationally known healthcare leaders to lecture on current topics in healthcare and network with the students. Many of his students received jobs from the contacts made in his Profiles class.

During Dr. Biggs' time as Director of the campus and executive programs in health administration, both programs achieved national rankings among the top 25 graduate programs in healthcare management by US News & World Report.

In addition to his service to the University of Colorado Denver, Dr. Biggs had a successful career in both investor-owned and non-profit hospital industries, including a twelve year term as the CEO of large teaching hospitals. During which, he directed the first merger between osteopathic and allopathic hospitals in the United States. Dr. Biggs sits on a number of hospital boards and is the author of three books on healthcare governance. He is a faculty member of the American Hospital Association's Center for Healthcare Governance and Chairman of the Practical Governance Group, both of which offer educational programs for hospital governing boards.

Dr. Biggs received his MBA in Health Administration in 1969 from George Washington University and his PhD in Healthcare Administration in 1977 from Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Biggs plans to continue to consult and partake in healthcare governance, as well as keep up his squash game in his retirement. He and his wife, Alison, look forward to spending their free time traveling.

FREE CHFP EXAM PREP COURSE

Stand out from the crowd with certification from HFMA.

hfma | Certifications

Are you interested in differentiating yourself in the market? Having a degree is not always good enough in today's competitive job market. Having an industry credential from a major professional association sets you apart when seeking that next better job. One such credential is the Certified Healthcare Financial Professional (CHFP) offered by the Healthcare Financial Management Association (HFMA).

You do NOT have to be an aspiring finance person to use this credential to your advantage. Showing that you can understand budgets, reimbursement, and expense management makes you very marketable in operations management as well.

There will be a prep course for the CHFP exam held on:
Friday and Saturday, February 7-8, 2020

Auraria Campus-West Classroom Building, Room 262
1050 10th St.
Denver, CO 80204

Online via Zoom for first 50 to sign up

The course is free for HFMA members and the certification is deeply discounted.

Please take advantage of the fact that the author of the certification is teaching the course! If you have questions, please contact jeffrey.helton@ucdenver.edu.

Visit <https://cvent.me/vv53Bw> for more information about the course and to register.

WELCOME NEW FACULTY

HASO GIVES BACK

The Health Administration Student Organization (HASO) organized a Cereal Drive for the months of November and December in support of Project Angel Heart. Project Angel Heart provides medically appropriate meals to those in need who live with chronic illness. Physical donations were received via a collection bin at the Business School while virtual donations were collected online. Through these efforts HASO was able to meet their goal of raising $200, as well as collect several boxes of cereal.

In 2020, HASO will be offering another community service opportunity for students of the health administration programs. Volunteers will spend an afternoon in February preparing and serving lunch to patrons at the Denver Rescue Mission. The Denver Rescue Mission provides support to members of the community experiencing homelessness and addiction through emergency services, rehabilitation, transitional programs, and community outreach.
